Exuberance

What are the things I love in life?
Scent of woodsmoke, bright blue skies,
A song well sung, and laughing eyes,
Velvet night, and wind's keen knife.

What things in life bring joy to me?
Joy in my heart, youth in my heels,
Faraway peaks and turning wheels,
Clouded red sunsets, love's ecstasy.

What things in life make my heart glow with gladness?
Laughing red lips, a bright dancing flame,
Faces of friends, vain hopes of great fame,
Bright, crystal tears, and moments of sadness.

Lost Moon

J 1
U 9
N 3
E 8

Last night I looked at the moon
And wondered why it was so
Cold and white and bleak.
But now I know,
It's because you're gone forever.

They say I'm too young to feel
Heartache, ecstasy, and joy.
But they don't know
What is the truth
About the moon.
They think the moon is but
The lantern of night's dark skies.

Our moon was different.

Sometimes it was keen and thin and curved
Like the blade of a pirate's cutlass.
Sometimes it was bright and halved and shining
Like a great silver coin soft hidden 'neath a deep blue rug.
Sometimes it was full and round and glowing
Like a huge pearl on the slim yellow finger of a Chinese empress.

Once it was a luminous pool
That drowned all my sadness
In the glorious radiance
Of a beautiful love.

But now you're gone forever
And I see the same moon
All cold and white and bleak.

LILLIAN FRANK.

Thought

Is it so inconceivable that some day,
While wittily discussing the latest play,
Or the dire reverberations of a tea,
Or books, or problems political, that we
May pause, and recalling deeds we have wrought,
In terror find that we cannot hide from thought?

BILL NOBLE.

Good-bye, Class of June, 1938

It is said that "good-bye" is a contraction of "God be wi' ye." Also, it seems to me that it might have meant in the beginning, "May you enjoy 'good' during this bye period until you come again."

You who now leave North Central with its diploma in your hands will come again. Many of you in person and all of you, certainly, in memories will be back many times in our halls and on the playfield. I know you have had some of the happiest years here, and these years have changed you—have developed your personality, enlarged your purpose, awakened new interests, given you new powers of mind and new appreciations. All this is a part of education.

As I say "Good-bye" to you at this commencement time, I truly wish each of you only good things in the years to come.

Class Will

B EING in a bold and daring mood, we, the class of June '38, on the strength of our being almost the largest and of course best group ever to be graduated from North Central, do hereby take liberties to will and bequeath to those unfortunate underclassmen such things as we see fit. Since we are in a sound, although foggy state of mind, we make haste to publish and declare this, probably our last document of any sort, before we are forcibly or otherwise ejected from North Central. Therefore, under penalty of loud boos and hisses, we issue our final will, to-wit:

Fred Schwarz, illustrious editor of the Tamarack, bequeathes his "come-hither" eyes to Birney Blair.

To Jane Snure, Betty Foster wills her attempts at dance sponsoring.

Marvin Fritz gives his arguing ability to Bill Noble.

Tod Sloan leaves Frances Forrester sad.

Lillian Frank leaves her executive ability to the next editor of Ye News, along with her best wishes and a dozen roses.

Ralph Nelson leaves Barbara Dickinson with a sigh.

To Cliff Smith, Bob Nevers bequeathes his clowning ability in senior dramatics class.

Warren Stimpert leaves that mysterious blonde he has worried so much about.

Edythe Nuzzi wills her graceful walk to Faith Everett.

To any girls who take charge of the Girls' League room representatives, Jane Norden hands over infinite patience.

Don Snyder leaves his oratorical ability to Jack Duitch.

Jane Robinson leaves her good humor to all inspiring newsies.

Marjorie Ayler bequeathes her lovely blonde hair to Mary Chafec.

To Earldene Homer, Kathryn Bean leaves her track records.

A wardrobe of well-selected clothes is left by Harold Beavers to the wearers of dirty cords.

Alfred Bowles passes his "funny faces" on to the oncoming frosh.

Pat Boyle leaves her red hair to Gerry Hansen.

Marie Dirkes and Bunnie Burks obligingly will their super-colossal blushing ability to Margery Sabiston.

Lloyd Homad gives his tennis playing ability to Harold Downie.

Alta Milne leaves her dancing grace to Betty Stevens.

Doris Meredith leaves school, but keeps Elwood Sims for herself.

Lawrence Posson passes his ability to "Take it" along to Dick Pleiss.

To "Weasel," Fred Olberg bequeathes his massive chest.

Margaret Mac Miller leaves her love for "Dopey" (no reference intended) to baby sister Betty.

Marian Vanderwall wills her freckles to Ruth Peterson.

To Jack Nicholson goes Don Woods's golfing ability.

Betty Wood hands over her ability to win swimming trophies to Doris Anderson.

An addition to the trophy case is made by Dick Lines in the form of his old pair of cords.

Ronald Moss bequeathes his ability to "knock those pucks through the goal" to Jim Neidigh.

Though Tom Kroetch leaves good old N. C., he takes Jane Radkey with him.

Glenn Pitcher reluctantly leaves his flirting to Mr. Chandler, who doesn't need any particular help.

To Kay Small goes Alberta Love's southern accent, sub.

Ray Koefod and many others leave Phyllis Henry.

Lawrence Juul says that Mrs. Leonard may have his deep voice to use for speech. She might need it if she plays the part of Lincoln.

Ruth Pyle leaves her social accomplishments to Pat Morrill.

Gerry Thompson leaves her Spanish looks to Joy Neff.

Roy Howes is thankful that he doesn't have to leave Elizabeth Squibb.

Andy Cattanaeh leaves his sunny disposition to replace the spotlight in the projection room.

Darwin Jenson passes his ability to ask endless questions along to the senior B class.

Catherine Osborne leaves her agility to Miss Pinkham.

To Eleanor Groom goes Jean Livingston's "perfect 36."

Derald Lyman bequeathes his curly hair to the girls in the freshman class.

Someone ought to leave Ben Thorson a tablet.

Henry Vogel leaves his ticket selling ability and the smile that goes with it to Gordon Chatterton.

Bettie Wunseh hands over her typing ability to Roger Rice.

Bill Holms and Bill Hughes give their football ability to Paul Lee with instructions to whip those "darn Bullpups."

Fred Englund finally bequeathes his jobs in the library to aspiring frosh.

Earl Bossuyt gives his "stomach Steinway" playing ability to Phil Cathey.

Reamer Bolz hands over his "cramping" ability to Frank Schwartz.

Lorraine Cromwell leaves her nickname, "Spitfire," to any other bundle of dynamite.

The

Tamarack

To Ralph Lissy, Theron Goldsmith bequeathes his "mile."
Barbara Gerking leaves Kenny Bishop.
Grant Gilbert kindly bequeathes to anyone who wants it his ability to injure himself.

To Betty Elsea, Esther Dringman wills her ability to eat dates.
Milburn Blakemore, in addition to leaving Marjorie Hand, gives his traffic tickets to Bob Hoffman.

Bette Dickinson leaves her nickname "Diekey" to Maxine Dieus.
Mildred Dumphy lets her name stay in 214.

The volleyball form of Frances Gau goes to Louise Gomsrud.

Don Gibson leaves "The bull" to anyone who will edit it.

Doug Bankson wills the name "Boofy" to Fred Goettel.

Gordon Bennion leaves his poise to Clayton LeDuc.

To Bernice Titus goes Cletis Beller's big, innocent eyes.

Kenny Gibb leaves Audra Snedden.

Ruth Austin leaves her smooth disposition to Inamae Harding.

Vivian Mondou leaves to join Joe Barlow.

Duane Wilson bequeathes all his love to Bette Skoog and Eunice Ruetten.

Those big brown eyes of Dorothy Borton are left to Nettie Jean Ross.

To John Caruso goes Walter Bale's snap in economics.

Avis Hill wills her naturally wavy hair to Pat Petersen.

Wes Hulett gives his drum majorship to Don Strain.

Irene Money hands over her shorthand experience to Janet Griffin.

Vernon Morse's way with the women goes to Joe Kelly.

Ralph Peterson passes his experience along to Rod Jones.

To Vernon Phillips, Harold Owen bequeathes his pull with the library monitors.

Nellie Knight's timid grin goes to Jane Snure.

Her low-pitched voice, Virginia Bogar wills to Betty Morgenthaler.

That French accent of Jackie Wieder's is left to Beverly Gregory.

Dennis Williams leaves his muscular ability to Jimmy Ryan.

Lee VanderMeer gives his bass voice to Miss McKenna, the better to yell at her news classes.

Cleo Krebs leaves her earrings to Cleo Gale.

The shyness of Marie Williamson is handed over to Virginia Snow.

Charlotte Pushor leaves her operation to Nancy Lou Clemens.

Marian Mueller's temper is passed along to Gloria Thompson.

Lois Bonner leaves her grace to Bob N. Johnson.

And now, freshmen, sophomores, and lastly little senior B's, we leave you. Still being in sound mind, we realize we must hurry to escape your wrath, so we hastily sign this.

Class History

Listen, my children, and you shall hear,
Of our class progress year by year.
The things we did in old N. C.
Make very interesting history.

IT WAS September of the year 1934. The leaves on the trees had not yet started to turn; the great out-of-doors was still a place all too inviting. But alas—the old school bell was ringing, and a large group of eighth grade graduates were about to reach another stage of their metamorphosis and turn into North Central Indians. Like butterflies they flitted around from one class room to another almost completely lost in this big wide new world. But they became accustomed to this new life and soon began to show the spirit of true Indian braves.

As time went on, these little Indians took courage and in 1935 when their Havermale brothers joined them, they were seen popping out from behind upper-classmen to enthusiastically call out that delightful word, "Frosh!"

Being thus increased in number, the band took on new strength, new power, new glory. Now they were full-fledged braves. And besides, the high and mighty seniors were beginning to notice that these underclassmen existed. Even in the spring of '36, many were engaged in tribal activities. Homer Calkins won fame in the checker tournament. John Harris, who later became bandmaster, started his brilliant career by winning the band inspection contest. Bette Cruse, Nellie Knight, Charlotte Wallace, Lorraine Cromwell, Margaret Mae Miller, Marjorie Graul and Marian Barton also distinguished themselves in the "Doll Shop" presentation of that year.

Many moons passed. Again golden September rolled around. 340 juniors braves and maidens came enthusiastically back to the big wigwam. Football! The braves fought hard that year. Bruce Penny, who later became co-captain, Elwood Carter, Bill Holms, Doug Bankson, Jack Finrow, Darwin Jensen and Gordon Bennion put up some stiff competition for the Bullpups, the Tigers across the river and the Pirates on the hill.

Spring found the tribe peaceful but industrious. Many of the tribesmen were training to lead the band in various fields. Alfred Bowles entertained the members of the Associated Student councils by imitating Professor Quiz. Gordon Bennion, Doug Bankson and Elwood Carter were elected to offices in the Federation.

Indian summer, 1937, found the wigwam buzzing with excited workers. 346 seniors were starting on their last year at North Central. 346 seniors were putting their all into making this year the best ever. Chieftains were cropping out everywhere. Theron Goldsmith and Art Swenson brought back from the hunting grounds first and second honors in the cross-country race. In "The Count and the Co-ed," operetta, Patricia Boyle and James Arenton took leading roles.

Tamarack

Chief Ralph Nelson, assisted by Carol Patz, vice president, Virginia Delgrove, secretary, and Tom Kroetch, treasurer, the senior B class took over the problem of convocation seating, working out a new system.

From that time on, things moved rapidly. Elwood Carter was elected to the presidency of the Boys' Federation with Bill Hughes, vice president, Tom Kroetch, financial secretary, and Jack Finrow, treasurer. Evelyn Partidge with the help of Jane Norden, Virginia Watkins and Jane Herrington were chosen to guide the Girls' League through a very successful semester.

In the spring election of senior A officers, Ralph Nelson was again named chief. This time Maxine Warner became vice president, Bill Hughes, secretary, and Wayne Guthrie, treasurer.

One of the semester highlights was the big pow wow dessert dinner which was presided over by Elizabeth Squibb, president of the Associated Student councils. There, around the council fire, problems were discussed, and plans for the semester's activities were made. Tom Hanifen has been vice president of the council, Wayne Guthrie, secretary, and Pat Boyle, treasurer.

Whenever a large number of people is gathered together, law enforcement of some kind must be maintained. Warren Stimpert accomplished this job very efficiently as president of the Conduct board. Other class members who were active on the Conduct board were Fred Englund, Virginia Delgrove, Dick Lines and Henry Vogel.

Outstanding scholastically, Lillian Frank with a grade average of 3.95 was awarded first place on the senior A honor roll. Excelling in journalism as well as other subjects, she was editor in chief of The North Central News. Fred Schwarz, a member of the debate team and class orator by election, has also been outstanding in publications as editor of the Tamarack.

Closely related to literature is the art of drama. Senior dramatics brought to light this past semester many talented braves and maidens. In "Spring Dance," presented May 20 and 21, Nita Anderson, Carol Patz, Fred Olberg, Gordon Bennion and many others found themselves well on the way to success as thespians.

As leaves before a gust of wind, so sped the last three short months of school for 346 senior A's. Basketball season had changed to tennis and baseball. Red letter days were coming and going in quick succession—baseball games, track meets, recreation hours, matinee dances, the "Doll Shop," the "Federation Follies," the senior prom, the senior tea, Friendly week with "How" day and the crowning of the May Queen as main features.

Already some adventurous folk are peering out of the wigwam door eager to explore the worlds beyond, while others are gathering up past memories to carry with them the rest of life's journey. Already, other capable braves and maidens are stepping forward to fill the offices of the departing. We, the senior A class, wish to pass on to others the torch of leadership and friendship that North Central may continue to hold a spot in the hearts of each of her children.

Calendar

Dear Seniors,

When frequently through the years to come, you wish to recall the good times in your senior A class, turn to this calendar of events of the spring semester of '38.

January

- 26—First day of the new semester with 270 green frosh decorating the hall.
27—Miss Imogene Warder, world wide traveler, is presented at a special convocation.
31—Federation names department heads.

February

- 3—Functions of the Girls' League and Boys' Federation are explained to the new boys and new girls at separate convocations.
4—Wow! Did you see the neophyte edition of The News? It really is sumpin!
New boys stag it at a semi-annual party given by the Boys' Federation. Today is a day of days—A. S. C. elects Elizabeth Squibb, president, and Tom Hanifen, vice president.
Warren Stimpert is chosen to guide all the misled culprits brought before the Student Conduct board.
7—Ping pong balls fly hither and you as the students turn out for the first recreation hour of the semester.
8—N. C. students take part in a candle lighting service for the P.-T. A. meeting.
9—Teachers drop books and dignity and don basketball suits to play the regular squad. (They lost.) Deserving students receive band pins, math awards and hockey caps.
16—N. C. day at the arena. We didn't know that water could be so hard.
17—Yippee! Wow! N. C. trims L. C., city basketball champions, to the tune of 27 to 24.
18—Senior counselors and their proteges begin their classes.
23—Girls' League interscholastic playday at North Central.
24—N. C. tribe holds powwow at the semi-annual dessert dinner with Indian princess, Elizibeth Squibb, presiding.
25—Senior A's elect Ralph Nelson, president; Maxine Warner, vice president; Bill Hughes, secretary; Wayne Guthrie, treasurer; Fred Schwarz, orator, and Bill Holms, sergeant at arms.

March

- 2—N. C. basketball squad moves into second place in the city series as it defeats the mighty Pirates with a score of 31-19.
3—Students dance around with News on their minds. It is the first dance of the season, carrying the theme of Publications. Decorations consist of newspaper hats and newspaper streamers. During the intermission, the "Man at the Keyhole" is exposed. Snoop! Snoop!
4—N. C. girls' and boys' skating teams "bring home the bacon" with the first skating cups ever presented. Letters are awarded to the basketball and hockey teams.

Miss Mary McKenna, adviser, names the Tamarack staff with Fred Schwarz as editor and Norine Stangland and Lillian Frank, associate editors.

7—A. Ottenheimer previews "She Stoops to Conquer" at a double convocation.

8—Girls learn how to take care of their hair and how to apply cosmetics at the first of a series of six special convocations to be given by the Girls' League.

Tamarack campaign starts with a bang.

14—Washington State Theatre presents "She Stoops to Conquer" to a capacity audience in our auditorium.

"Tweet tweet! Science convocation on birds.

Safety Week convocation, home room discussions and the like! Everyone tries to keep out of someone else's way to avoid an accident.

17—Drama! Music! Comedy! Chorus girls! It must be the "Doll Shop." It is the "Doll Shop."

18—Ditto for March 17. Evening performance given for the P.-T. A.

What smart people we have! T. O. Ramsey announces 41 students on the June senior A honor roll.

Safety con climaxes Safety Week. May its memory linger on!

21—First day of spring! Tra-la-la-la!

22—North Central is honored by a special convocation given by the Washington State college singers.

24—
With balloons over head,
Green, yellow and red,
And streamers hanging down,
While students danced around.
It's the Spring Dance!

28—Pins are awarded at convocation to the girls who have been active in League work.

31—Time marches on!

April

1—April Fool! We only wish that the teachers were fooling when they pass out those grades!

Talk about girls wearing slacks—the brawny football heroes and the muscular teachers are doing pretty well in their short skirts and red bloomers. It's the "Fed Follies" and it is stupendous, swellegant and—well, words can't express how it is.

2-11—Vacation! Time off while the teachers attend their convention and the students recuperate from their report cards.

6—Eighty girls swing their rackets to entertain the teachers attending the Inland Empire convention.

11—Students dust off their desks and begin to work (?) after a week of glorious vacation.

12—Many students worrying about the information that teachers give to the parents at Open House. P.-T. A. elects new officers.

Boys' Federation

Organized by L. C. Bradford, present adviser, the Boys' Federation, composed of all boys at North Central, promotes extra-curricular activities among the boys of the school.

Business of the Federation is handled by the executive council composed of the adviser, officers, department heads and representatives of the various school activities.

Activities are divided into four departments, each of which has a number of committees. The school service department is headed by Doug Bankson. Gordon Bennion is in charge of personal service. The community service department is directed by Fred Olberg, and the vocational department functions under the leadership of Bruce Penny.

This semester a 16-act variety program of all boys was presented by the Federation on the evening of April 1. It was called the "Fed Follies of '38."

Girls' League

In 1918, Miss Jessie Gibson organized the League for all of the girls to develop sympathy, understanding and an active loyalty to the highest interests of the school, the community and the nation.

All of the business of the League is transacted by the central council, which includes in its membership the adviser, the officers, the department heads, the floor chairmen and the committee chairmen.

League Activities are divided into eight departments. The social service department, headed by Faith Everett, sponsors most of the philanthropic work of the League and aids girls new to the school.

With Maxine Diens as head, the entertainment department manages all social functions such as teas and parties.

Roll checkers, slip collectors and all other clerical workers are members of the library department, led by Edelle Lewerk.

All sports, such as swimming, tennis, basketball, baseball, ice skating, hiking and track are sponsored by the personal efficiency department under Jerry Moody.

The

Tamarack

Murthe McCracken heads the senior counselors, a group of senior girls who conduct social problems classes for all girls new to the school.

The hobby department is headed by Pat Petersen. This group studies outside amusements and hobbies.

A girl from each home room is chosen to compose the room representative department. They meet with the vice president of the League and carry messages to the home rooms.

The newest group is the school service with Dorothy McDonald at the head.

Girls who work faithfully each semester receive mention on the League honor roll. Bronze, silver, gold and gold set with ruby pins are awarded to those on the honor roll for the second, fourth, sixth and eighth times.

The North Central News

The North Central News, one of the most outstanding and successful of school projects, began its publications September 25, 1917, under the direction of Ernest E. Green. At that time the paper was a five-column monthly issue. Later the size was changed to its present form, a seven-column paper, and is now issued every week.

Many honors have been won by The News. It has been awarded All-American or highest rating in a national contest sponsored by the National Scholastic Press association in 1936 and in 1937 and in 1938. Other honors have been won in contests sponsored by the Sigma Delta Chi honorary journalist society of the University of Washington and the Columbia Scholastic Press association.

Traffic and Grounds Squads

Organized in 1920, the purpose of the traffic squad is to maintain order in the halls and on the stairways. Officers of the squad are: Commissioner, Bob Adams; captain, Calvin Shumaker; lieutenants, Henry Vogel and Harold Downie.

In 1931 the grounds squad was organized to keep the school grounds orderly and to enforce the rules of the Conduct board. Fred Englund is commissioner, with Dick Lines as captain and Grant Gilbert and Kenneth Strickler as lieutenants.

Both groups are advised by C. A. Chandler and L. C. Bradford.

Amores Librorum

In the fall of 1935, Miss Mary Bacon, librarian, selected 30 boys and girls from those on the honor roll to become members of a library reading group, meeting twice a month to discuss books and to hear book reviews and travel talks.

This group was organized as a school club in 1936 under the name Amores Librorum, meaning "Lovers of Books."

Each member must read a group of books on a certain topic each semester in order to enlarge his reading interests.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the research and the objectives of the study. It then proceeds to a literature review, followed by a description of the methodology used. The results of the study are presented in the next section, followed by a discussion of the findings and their implications. The paper concludes with a summary of the main points and a list of references.

The research was conducted in a systematic and rigorous manner, following the principles of good research practice. The data collected was analyzed using appropriate statistical methods, and the results were presented in a clear and concise manner. The findings of the study are discussed in detail, and their implications for practice and policy are explored. The paper is well-structured and easy to read, and it provides a valuable contribution to the field of research.

Senior Dramatics

MORE than keeping up the custom of a "good show," the senior dramatics class presented Philip Barry's "Spring Dance" in the auditorium on the evenings of Friday, May 20, and Saturday, May 21, under the direction of Grace Douglas Leonard, dramatics instructor.

The three-act modern play by one of the leading authors of the day was interpreted cleverly by the senior thespians. Comments such as "the play with the spontaneous dialogue," "refreshing as a cool swim," "typically modern," "true to life and characteristic of college students," "emotional, spontaneous and natural," and the fact that the audience laughed, cried and smiled proved its success.

According to Mrs. Leonard, the change from the deeply dramatic plays of the past made this one even more entertaining because of its modern newness and variety in stage setting, costumes, acting and dialogue.

"Spring Dance" is set in the dormitory of a girls' college in New England near two popular boys' colleges, Yale and Princeton. The plot winds around the college romance of Alex and Sam. Bright, comical, attractive Mady Platt; serious, calm, judicious Kate McKim; dashing, dramatic, attractively vulgar Sally Prescott; pretty, child-like, senseless Frances Fenn; and vital, intense, attractive Alex Benson are the closest of friends and live a happy life of study and worry, dances and gaiety and romance and sympathy. Prim, New England Miss Ritchie, the housemother, enters to spoil several good times, and Mildred, the housemaid, produces plenty of laughs.

Alex and tall, good-looking Sam Thatcher, from Yale, are in love, but complications arise when Sam, overlooking Alex's feelings, plans to take a trip with his friend, the dark, contemptuous Lippincot. Alex is heart-broken and harsh words result between the lovers. The girls tell Sam that he "needn't expect her to be around when he returns." Sam's best friend, humorous, likable, peppy John Hatton, urges him to leave this "trap" and continue his trip, which Sam proceeds to do. The girls realize that it is up to them to keep Sam there and save Alex's feelings. So they conspire, unknown to Alex. Mady's father offers Sam a job and when that doesn't work they talk "Hat" into having him put in jail. After he gets out he comes to the dormitory to apologize to Alex and she ends up by going with him. Tall, urbane Buck Buchanan and stocky, athletic-built Doc Boyd from Princeton furnish amusement, as do Frances and "Hat" in their scenes together. Thirty-five-year-old Walter Beckett, biology professor, brings in the older element and helps Alex out with her "thesis."

"Doll Shop"

TO THE tune of the "Frog Dance," composed by C. Olin Rice, the curtain was raised on the fourth biennial "Doll Shop," sponsored by the girls' physical education department, under the direction of Miss Elsa Pinkham, in the school auditorium on St. Patrick's day, Thursday, March 17, at a double pay convocation, and again on Friday, March 18, for the Parent-Teacher association presentation.

No sooner had the show begun when Patricia Boyle and Don Henyan, an old Irish couple who owned a doll shop, were honored with the presence of two little girls, Gloria Sherwood and Betty Rehfeld, who had come to buy a "dolly." To the antics of playful frogs, Dawn Carpenter and Katherine Higgins, the shopkeepers showed their wares, after which the girls decided to "buy them all."

Opening the show were the "Doll Shop Tune Twisters," composed of Dik Ross, clarinet; Bob Porter, guitar; Jay Gookstetter, slap bass; and Carl Jensen, washboard, who received a large ovation. The "Mammies" dressed in polkadot negro costumes stuffed with pillows were Eleanore English, Betty Gazette, Jerry Moody, Joy Neff, Betsy Ross, Viola Schaffert and Audra Snedden. A body-twisting aerobic dance was presented by Fern Carlock after which Ruth Peterson and Geraldine Hansen interpreted "good St. Patrick's day" with their version of the "Kerry Singers." Following that, Ruth Pyle presented a Spanish dance, during which she threw a rose into the audience in a regal fashion. Iona and Leona Mottaz as "Farmerettes" sang "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" accompanied by Bob Porter on his guitar. An eccentric rope tapping number saw Bette Cottrell as a "Schoolday Lassie." Swinging along came Frances Forrester, Beverly Gazette, Inamae Harding, Mae Milne, Alta Milne, Vivian Mondou, Virginia Reeder and Betty Stevens as "Hawaiians" followed by Betty Bryan and Barbara Wied as "Susie Q's."

Beverly Adams and Marvin Robertson, as a bride and groom, sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," while an impressive ballet was danced by Phyllis Eaton, Sylvia Green, Dolores Haroldson, Mary Mathews, Pat Morrill, Murthe McCracken and Phyllis Henry. Flopping in every direction were Marjorie Peterson and Mary Walsh as "Raggedy Aims." "Flamenco Oriental" was interpreted by Eloise Jordan and then Bob R. Johnson and Eddie Thompson "brought down the house" with their "Come and Get It" act. Beverly Berg was lovely as the "Doll in Pink," a toe dance, as were Velma Swett and Gerry Thompson as "Mexicans." A part of the navy performed when the "sailors," Irene Anderson, Betty Bowman, Maxine Dye and Arleen McBean danced.

Giving two of the loveliest solos were Elsie Stephens, soprano, and Jane Radkey, torch singer. A clever "Top Hat" tap by Katherine Barry was entertaining as were Carmela Costello and Victoria Faraca in the "Bowery." Dainty Marianne Peterson portrayed the "Bareback Rider" and Julia McConnehey did a roller skating act. Also much enjoyed were Betty Bittner as the "Jockey Doll" and Phyllis Hunt's Chinese whistling. A peppy Irish jig saw Imogene Anfinson, Floy Bale, Helen Chandler, Nancy Lou Clemens, Cleo Gale, Frances Gilleland, Eleanor Mele and Florence Prague as "lassies." Not to be outdone by the navy, two military dolls, Frances Dean and Loraine Stapleton, danced with "guns ready."

The last number, featuring the bride and groom, was beautiful when a chorus singing "When the Mighty Organ Played Oh Promise Me," made an archway with their long crooks for the couple. In the chorus were: Marian Barton, Virginia Barton, Margaret Crisp, Marjorie Gaul, Cleo Krebs, Margaret Kopet, Margaret Little, Eleanor Mank, Carol Patz, Jayne Rice and Bette Thompson.

The "Doll Shop" theme song as well as "Little Doll in Pink," "Raggedy Ann" and the "Frog Dance" were composed by C. Olin Rice, musical director. Elsa M. Pinkham was dancing coach and general director; Grace Douglas Leonard, dramatics and make-up; Agnes Avent, wardrobe adviser; Ethel Ashley, scene decorations; E. J. Griffin, business adviser, and J. D. Youngman, scene construction.

The "Doll Shop" orchestra, directed by John Harris, consisted of: Cello, Barbara Gerking; violin, Phyllis Remmers; trombone, Joe Carter; trumpets, John Harris and Bill Provost; piano, Mary Jean Sloanaker, Joyce Millsbaugh; flute, Cora Hughart; clarinet, Hugh Mitchell, and drums, Gerald Hartley.

The business staff was Carol Patz, property manager; senior dramatics class, make-up; Geraldine Hansen and Ruth Peterson, business managers; Carl Carter, advertising manager; costumes, Vivian Mondon, Karol Keats, Jean Cockburn, Joyce Ferris, Veda Burks and Emma Lou Jydstrup.

Stage staff members were Vern Broadwell, manager; LeRoy Englund, technician; Andy Cattanaach, booth; Gordon Chapman, curtain; Harold Wohrle, flyman, and Earl Schmidt, Bob Komp, Don Shaw, John Aiken and Truman Chase, assistants.

At the performance sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, the special concert artists were Dorothy Tesch, soprano, Jan. '38; Phyllis Remmers, violinist; Bob R. Johnson, baritone; Gerald Hartley, xylophonist, and Mrs. Harry Doose, June '19, who sang "Moonbeams" and Killarney."

THE "Federation Follies of 1938" was presented by the Boys' Federation in the school auditorium on the night of April 1.

The management of the show was as follows: General arrangements, Tom Hanifen, Gordon Bennion, Elwood Carter, Billy Hughes and Lowell C. Bradford; publicity, Dik Ross, Harry Ashley, Warren Stimpert; tickets, Dick Frazier, Rod Jones, J. O. Ecker; program, Gordon Chatterton, Roger Rice, Tom Watson, Bob Proctor; stage, Vern Broadwell, Andy Cattanaach, Earl Schmidt, Gordon Chapman, LeRoy Englund, Howard Wohrle, John Aiken, Don Shaw, Bob Komp, Truman Chase; ushering, Francis Correll, Carol Patz, C. A. Chandler, E. L. Hix; euemasters, Fred Englund, Billy Hughes, Elwood Carter, Bill Stromme; adviser, Lowell C. Bradford.

Introducing each number cleverly and capably were Gordon Bennion and Tom Hanifen as masters of ceremonies. Act 1 opened the curtain on "Horace Heidt-It and His Crippling Wrythem" which consisted of the Pep band dressed in tuxedo waists. In the band were John Harris, leader, Bill Provost, Will Clark, Joe Carter, Clarke Gist, Jack Bradford, Hugh Mitchell, Ken Strickler, Fred Olberg, Bill Wells, Bob Wyse, Rod Jones, Willard Barth, Jay Gookstetter, Arvod Crumpacker, Gerald Hartley and Bob Hoffman. Accompanied by C. Olin Rice, Johnny Harris played two trumpet solos, closing Act 2.

Act 3 presented Harold Hughes and Tom Watson as "Kampus Kutups." They gave a clever tap dance number, accompanied by Merlyn Philo. Winning the audience in Act 4 were the "Stringsters," Arvod Crumpacker, banjo; Bob Porter, guitar; Jay Gookstetter, bass viol, and Don Henyan, piano. "Pump Pump Pull Away" was the clever accodian number by Earl Bossuyt for Act 5.

One couldn't possibly express the hilarity of the audience in Act 6 when "The Little Read Schoolhouse" saw the faculty dressed as "pupils" in "The Bookworm Turns." The teacher was portrayed by Alfred Bowles. The "pupils" were Messrs. Walter Hawes, Archie Buckley, Earl Memmet, George Sander, Guy Barnes, Walter Williams, Glen Minard, Paul Nenuan, Warren Worth Jones. Act 7 opened with complete contrast when Marvin Robertson, tenor, Bob Porter, guitar, and Doug Deissner, whistler, captivated their listeners with "Hawaiian Moonlight." Bob G. Smith capably interpreted "Tiz Tizzie Lish Smith."

Then came Act 9 with the melodrama directed by Tom Hanifen entitled "The Revenge of Count Ten." The characters were: Draft, Bob Nevers; tapestry, George Petsch; Count Ten, Warren Stimpert; captain of the mud guards, Harry Treffry; Lady Isadumbella, Glenn Pitcher; Mark Tyme, Birney Blair; Punko Polo, Denny Williams; Chin Deep, Dave Pearce; circular staircase, Gordon Chatterton. New, different and entertaining were the talents of Bob R. Johnson, Singhi, Eddie Thompson, Singlo, and Don Henyan, Swing Interlude in Act 10. Bob won laurels with his singing as did Eddie with his comical tumbling and Don with his piano playing.

A beautifully shadowed stage held Gerald Hartley, xylophonist in "Hilarious Hammers" in Act 11. Willard Barth accompanied him. Always at their best, the Tin Can Tune Twisters presented "Rushin Ragtime" led by Minsky Corsetoff. They were: Dik Ross, clarinet; Bob Porter, guitar; Jay Gookstetter, bass fiddle; and Carl Jensen, what not. Act 13 saw "Boofina and Her Beautiful Bevy of Bouncing Ballerinas" directed by Miss Elsa Pinkham. The premiere dansense was "Bitsy" Le Grant. In her troupe were Elwood Carter, Doug Bankson, Tom Kroetch, Fred Goettel, Billy Hughes, Don Woods, Bill Stromme, Don MacPherson, Bruce Penny, Roger Rice, Jack Finrow, Ray Koefod. Act 14 and 15 saw Gordon Bennion and Tom Hanifen extending the "Season's Greetings" and "Ditto." The show ended with the entire company in Act 16 presenting "Red and Black" with Wes Hulett, drum major. Lowell C. Bradford was then presented with an "Indian Head" ring.

The "anything to be different attitude" was helped by girl nshers under Carol Patz, head. They were: Nettie Jean Ross, Virginia Watkins, Maxine Warner, Virginia Delgrove, Evelyn Partridge, Patricia Boyle, Glorian Rohrbach, Mary Walsh, Lillian Frank, Jane Snure, Elizabeth Squibb and Shirley Hawley.

"Masque Moods of '38"

FEATURING the talent of the Theatre Masque club, "Masque Moods of '38" presented "Spotlights in Tahiti" on Friday, April 22, in the auditorium.

The opening curtain showed a Tahitian village. The four natives, Dik Ross, Bob Porter, Jay Gookstetter and Carl Jensen, started the show with a bang by playing "O, By Jingo." Exotic as a human native sacrifice in Tahitian dress was Elsie Stephens sitting on a pedestal singing "Pagan Love Song." In keeping with the native theme, Eddie Thompson, as the Medicine Man, did a tumbling act. Suddenly the natives sight the scientist, Featherstone Peabody and his wife, played by Alfred Bowles and Carol Patz, and capture them. In order to save themselves, the Peabodys amaze the natives with the wonders of their television machine. Flash!

The spotlight turned to the center stage where modernistically arranged silver steps were backgrounded by a skyscraper scene. Mr. Pitchorsky, the announcer, read by Stan Beek, connected the acts. Beth Kuchenbecker played "Manhattan Serenade" on her accordion, followed by a toe dance by Frances Dean to the tune of "There's a New Moon Over the Old Mill." Ushering in pep and vitality was Jane Radkey's singing of "Joseph! Joseph!" "When Nellie Came Back From the City" was cleverly acted and sung by Patricia Boyle. Swinging from the skies came Lola Mae Rohwer's aerobatic dance. The Frenchman, Gerald Hartley, played "Whirlwind" on his xylophone.

Switching down to "good old Spain," Barbara Wied did a rhumba dance, followed by the singing of "A Heart That's Free" by Beverly Adams. "Song of the Islands" featured Arvod Crimpacker on his banjo. Betty Bryan did a fast tap and Bob Johnson sang "Jubilee" and "Please Be Kind." Milton Bartholomew, violin; Bob Porter, guitar, and Carl Jensen, slap bass, entertained. An oriental dance was given by Loraine Stapleton after which Johnny Harris was featured in a trumpet solo, "Moon of Manakoor." "

But the highlight of the show was the roller skating act by Julia McConnehey and Harry Leonard. Accompanists for all numbers were Marcia Barnes and Don Henyan.

Modern, clever and talented was this fourth Masque show, keeping up the tradition of good productions. From the proceeds of "Spotlights in Tahiti," the club presented to the school a public speaking recording machine to be used in the music and speech departments.

Radio Plays

SPEECH 2 was very active in radio play work this semester, since the public speaking system has been available.

On Thursday, March 10, students presented the "Signing of the Declaration of Independence," directed by Grace Douglas Leonard, over the radio under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association. Taking part were: Gloria Sherwood, Mary Walsh, Jane Snure, Harold Beavers, Stanley Beck, Cherrill Curtis, Chris Christie, Bob R. Johnson, Lawrence Juul, Derald Lyman, Charles Moore, Glenn Pitcher, William Singer, Kenneth Thornburg, Dennis Williams, Fred Goettel, Tony Ressa and Jim Neidigh.

On March 31, over KFPY, "When Lincoln Came to Pittsburgh" was presented for the Spokane Parent-Teacher association. Characters were: Doctor John Goucher, Charles Moore; Mrs. John Goucher, Pat Wright; Tom, Harold Beavers; Mark, Chris Christie; John, Enid Darling; Spike, Pat Richter; Mr. Dunn, Stan Beck; Mr. Adams, Derald Lyman; Mrs. Allen, Kathryn Bean; announcer, Glenn Pitcher.

For the radio demonstration during the Inland Empire Teachers' convention, Glenn Pitcher gave cuttings from "Emperor Jones" by Eugene O'Neill; Gloria Sherwood, nurse, and Gloria Thompson, Juliet, gave a cutting from "Romco and Juliet." Patricia Petersen and Billy Hughes read radio speeches.

Mixed Chorus

BOASTING nearly 80 members, the mixed chorus under the direction of C. Olin Rice completed a very successful semester with the singing of Verdi's "Trovatore." Participation in the inter-school concert and the spring concert were the main features this semester.

At the May inter-school concert the class sang Stephen Foster's "De Camptown Races," Sigmund Romberg's "Will You Remember," Arthur Sullivan's "The Long Day Closes," and Noble Cain's "Nocturne."

Members of the chorus class are: Sopranos, Beverly Adams, Arlene Snyder, Geraldine Hansen, Carol Patz, Maxine Reiniger, Floy Bale, Betty Rehfeld, Elsie Stephens, Leona Mottaz, Doris Cook, Bette Skoog, Dorothy Cameron, Geraldine Tollenaar, Pat Tenglund, Dorothy Johnston, Mary D'Assisi, Marguerite Williams, Beryl Yonkie, Betty Kimble, Elizabeth Bittner; altos, Cleo Krebs, Jayne Rice, Margaret Little, Annalee McQueen, Wanda Hansen, Mary Walsh, Patricia Boyle, Evelyn Russell, Carol Brandt, Marie Larson, Margaret Thorsen, Eva Costa, Sally Berg, Iona Mottaz, Margaret Crisp, Margaret Kopet, Gwenn Willard, Betty Bryan, Lucille Hughes, Eleanor Mauk; tenors, Don Henyan, Bill Pemberton, Bob Porter, Ray Koeffod, Ben Thorson, Howard Crockett, Arthur Chandler, Marvin Robertson, Dik Ross, Ken Strickler, Lawrence Peterson, Bob R. Johnson, Bob N. Johnson, Dick Hampton, George Cape, Al Richards; basses, Stanley Cress, Tom Pugh, Delmar Partch, Charles Anderson, Bruce Lamb, Richard Brede, Dong Deissner, Harold Short, Carroll Robinson, William Miner, Lyal Ringquist, Glenn Pitcher, Bob G. Smith, Joel Peters, Harvey Low, George Hayden, Merlyn Philo, Paul Palmer, Arden Howey, Lewis Daniels and Bill Knaeck.

Mary Walsh has acted as secretary and Stanley Cress and Bob N. Johnson took care of the books.

Three Fives

The Three Fives have had a busy semester. They appeared at the Rotary club and were active in the spring concert and the inter-school concert.

The Three Fives club has the following members: First soprano, Beverly Adams, Arlene Snyder, Elsie Stephens, Geraldine Tollenaar, Helen Turner, Geraldine Hansen; second sopranos, Doris Cook, Floy Bale, Betty Rehfeld, Cecelia Brault; altos, Cleo Krebs, Jayne Rice, Sally Berg, Marie Larson, Eleanor Mauk.

Orchestra

SINCE its origin in 1916, North Central's 56-piece orchestra, under the direction of C. Olin Rice, has presented a concert in the spring of each year along with the band and chorus.

This year the orchestra played at the inter-school concert in May. A picked group of musicians, under the baton of John Harris, furnished the music for the "Doll Shop." The group also provided music for the class play and for baccalaureate and commencement exercises.

For their various concerts this group played "Phedre Overture" by Mascnet, "Finlandia" and "Valse Triste" by Sibelius, "Student Prince" by Romberg, "Southern Roses Waltz" by Strauss, "Walther's Prize Song" by Wagner, "Ballet of the Flowers" by Hadley, "Narcissus" by Nevin, "Raymond Overture" by Thomas, "By the Blue Hawaiian Waters" by Ketelbey and "Swedish Coronation March" by Svendsen.

Second Orchestra

Orchestra

First Row: Margaret Eichelberger, Margy Gilbert, Phyllis Remmurs (concert mistress), Barbara Dickinson, Betty Armstrong. Second Row: Betty Jean Clarke, Eleanor Smith, Pat Boyle, Rose Marie Chafee, Helen Kurz. Third Row: Joe Carter, Milton Bartholomew, John Harris, Vivian Elvigion, Lorraine Wagner, Althea Carlson, Carroll Robinson, Cora Hughart. Fourth Row: Jack Bradford, George Frese, Helen Stapleton, June Pilent, Irene Money, Lovina Standeford. Fifth Row: Delbert Sontag, Hugh Mitchell, Virginia Watkins, Joyce Millsbaugh, Mary Chafee, Virginia Dittmer. Sixth Row: Floyd Griffith, Barbara Gerking, Clare Strain, Gerald Hartley, Carroll Osman. Paradox

Each small misfortune leaves its mark
Like craters dimpled by the rain,
Like faces mirrored in the dark
Beyond some dusky windowpane.

Yet losing you has left no weal
Upon the surface of my soul;
My little world is calm as steel . . .
Serene . . . a self-betraying whole.

Basketball

STARTING the second half of city series play, North Central's basketball team won five consecutive games to climb from the cellar position to second place in the city series standing. Included in this string of victories was a surprising win from the previously undefeated Lewis and Clark Tigers.

This season was the first under the mentorship of Guy O. Barnes, who took over the coaching duties vacated by J. Wesley Taylor. Mr. Taylor resigned in order that he might devote more time to intramural sports.

Freshman Wesley Dahl was named on the first all-city team. Captain Bob Hoesly, Jack Nicholson and Ralph Johnson won berths on the second all-city team. Letters were awarded to the following boys: George Jackson, Bob Savage, Jack Finrow, Bruce Penny, Gordon Bennion, Bill Zimmerman, Jack Nicholson, Bob Hoesly (captain), Lloyd Scott, Ralph Johnson, Wesley Dahl and Clifford Smith (manager's letter).

Pre-Season Games

Opening against Central Valley on Dec. 3, the Braves won the first of their pre-season games by the score of 37 to 12 and then meeting Central Valley again the following week, the Red and Black quintet was again victorious 28-13. Traveling into Idaho, the Spokaneites dropped a low-scoring tilt to Priest River 20 to 15.

The

Tamarack

Playing West Valley before Christmas vacation, the Reds lost a thrilling encounter 42 to 44, but they avenged this defeat later in the season by winning 43-36.

The Braves played eight games during the Christmas vacation, winning five and losing three. N. C. won from Wenatchee, Chewelah, West Valley, Spirit Lake and Coeur d' Alene. They dropped games to Cashmere, Harrington and Lewiston.

Lewis and Clark Series

North Central lost its first city series basketball game to Lewis and Clark by a 40 to 14 score. Play was rather ragged in this game. Lewis and Clark won the next two games in the four-game series, 48 to 30 and 30 to 19, but were defeated in the final tilt 27 to 24. This victory came as a surprise but was well earned by the fighting Indian quintet who dominated the play throughout the entire contest.

Series With Gonzaga

In this four-game series the Boone avenue hoopsters captured the first two games, but the Red and Black quintet rallied to take the final two contests. Scores in these games were: North Central 27, Gonzaga 30; North Central 15, Gonzaga 31; North Central 34, Gonzaga 30, and North Central 31, Gonzaga 19.

Rogers Series

North Central's basketeers captured three out of a possible four games played with Rogers. In one of the most thrilling battles staged during the entire season the Reds captured the first game 21 to 20, but the Pirates swamped the Indians 44-25 when the teams met the second time. N. C. won the final two games 34 to 26 and 38 to 34.

Baseball

WITH but four lettermen returning from last year's squad, Coach Archie Buckley issued the call for baseball which was answered by 180 candidates. Letter winners back for another year were: Elwood Carter, last year's captain, Sherill Pradella, first base, Bill Hughes, outfielder, and Tod Sloan, pitcher. Others from last year's squad were: Howard Wohrle, Frank Lucas, Clayton LeDuc, Jack Ramsey and Harold Rehn.

Intramural Tournament Played

Coach Buckley scheduled an intramural tourney which attracted twelve teams. Boys from last year's squad acted as captains, and the teams were named after faculty members who acted as sponsors.

C. R. Randall's team and Robert Barnard's nine met in the semi-final game of the single elimination tournament. Randall's team, with Clayton Le Due as captain, won the game 6 to 4 and the opportunity to meet P. H. Neuman's team in the finals. Neuman's squad, Howard Wohrle as captain, managed to squeeze out a 5 to 4 win in an extra-inning battle and by virtue of their victory became the intramural champions.

With the intramural tourney completed, Coach Buckley turned to the weeding out process. He picked a squad of 21 to represent North Central in baseball for the season. Boys chosen were: Catchers, Frank Lucas, Clayton Le Due and Bill Dalgarn; infielders, Sherill Pradella, Eugene LeGrant, Wesley Dahl, Elwood Carter, Edgar Peterson, Howard Wohrle and Marvin Jacobs; outfielders, Bill Hughes, Ted DuPont, Don Morgan and Dick Nevers; pitchers, Tod Sloan, Andy McLeod, Harold Rehn, Jack Ramsey, Bob Westberg, Bruce Wylder and Bill Pemberton.

North Central 2, West Valley 1

Opening the season against West Valley on the North Central playfield April 20, the Braves barely managed to down the West Valley Eagles 2 to 1 in a close game which was marked by tight fielding. Elwood Carter was the outstanding hitter of the day, getting a double and a triple in three trips to the plate. Carter also scored both of the Indians' runs.

Gene LeGrant made the only other hit scored by the Braves. Bob Lewis of the Eagles, and Tod Sloan of the Reds, staged a tight mound duel in which the North Central hurler emerged victorious. Lewis struck out four and allowed only three hits while Sloan whiffed 15 but allowed four hits.

Playing a poorer brand of ball than was displayed against West Valley, the Warriors dropped their second game April 26, to the Bullpups by the score of 6 to 0. Starting in the second inning, the Gonzaga nine pushed over two runs and then tallied twice more in the fourth and the sixth innings to put the game on ice.

The Indians lost every chance to score by hitting into three double plays while the Pups played heads-up ball. Bob Molitor, lanky Gonzaga hurler, held the Braves to three hits while his teammates garnered seven off the combined pitching of Sloan and McLeod. Don Morgan, sophomore outfielder of the Warriors, captured stick honors by getting two safe blows in three times at bat.

Rogers 7, North Central 6

Although they showed marked improvement since the Gonzaga tilt, the Indian nine was beaten 7 to 6 at North Central May 4, by the Rogers baseball team. Trailing 7 to 1 in the final inning, the Braves staged a determined rally which ended 7-6 in favor of the Hillyard aggregation. In this inning Ramsey singled, Wylder walked, and then Hughes singled to score Ramsey. Carter walked, filling the bases and Sloan connected for a home run, scoring the three men ahead of him. Innes replaced Marrier on the mound and retired the side.

Seven pitchers were used by both teams in this battle. Sloan, McLeod and Westberg for North Central and Hardy, Mead, Marrier and Innes for Rogers.

Lewis and Clark 7, North Central 0

Led by Dick Wouters who hurled a no-hit, no-run game, the Lewis and Clark nine handed the Braves a 7 to 0 defeat at North Central on May 10. The Indians played a poor brand of ball while the Lewis and Clark team took advantage of all breaks. North Central's hitters were unable to connect solidly with any of Wouter's pitches. Westberg and McLeod hurled good ball for the Braves while Wouters whiffed 14 North Siders and walked seven.

North Central 7, West Valley 2

A rejuvenated Indian baseball team took the field against the West Valley nine in the teams' second meeting May 12 on the opponent's field, and scored a 7 to 2 victory. Taking advantage of breaks, the Indians made two double plays. After scoring two runs in the first inning, the Eagles were unable to score, while the Braves tallied in the second, fourth and sixth stanzas.

Ramsey led the North Central batters with three hits in five trips. Both teams were handicapped by a very strong wind which made fly balls difficult to handle. Lewis of West Valley allowed eight hits, while Sloan allowed only three.

C

COACH Guy Barnes' call for track candidates was answered by 175 boys, the largest turnout in the history of the school. The eight lettermen who returned for another year's competition were: Bill Zimmerman, Bob Swift, Theron Goldsmith, LeRoy Crowe, Chuck Moore, Frank Moore, Lawrence Posson and Darwin Jensen.

Indians Smash Tigers 85 1/3 to 18 2/3

Winning a first place in every event and taking all but four seconds, the North Central cinder squad swamped the Lewis and Clark tracksters by the overwhelming margin of 85 1/3 to 18 2/3. Bill Zimmerman of the Indians scored more points than the entire South Side team combined by taking first place in the high and low hurdles, broad and high jump and tied for top honors in the pole vault.

Walter Frieske won the 100-yard dash, and his teammate, John Leslie, chalked up a first place in the 440. Chuck Moore took the 880, and Theron Goldsmith, crack North Central miler, won the mile in the excellent time of 4:40. The Warrior relay team of Crowe, C. Moore, B. Swift and Leslie captured the relay in the creditable time of 1:35.8.

Braves Repeat Performance

Repeating their performance of the week before, the Braves trounced the Rogers Pirates 87 to 17 as Bill Zimmerman scored 24 points in this meet. Holding the Hillyard aggregation to only one first place and two seconds, the Indians swept five events, garnering nine points for each event.

Zimmerman and Goodman, Rogers, staged a thrilling duel in the high hurdles in which Zimmerman barely managed to beat the Pirate hurdler. John Leslie, North Central sprinter, ranked second in the number of points scored. Leslie garnered a first in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and ran anchor man on the relay to garner 11 1/4 points.

The North Central relay team, composed of Crowe, C. Moore, B. Swift and Leslie, captured the relay in 1:35. This victory virtually assured the Indians of the city championship.

North Central Captures City Title

By virtue of their 82 1/3 to 21 2/3 victory over Gonzaga on May 13, the North Central tracksters won the 1938 high school track championship. The Braves won all of their meets by overwhelming margins, usually sweeping at least five events.

Bill Zimmerman again was the outstanding performer, garnering 14 1/4 points. John Leslie of North Central and Pete Hupperten of Gonzaga ran to a dead heat in the 100, but the Indians retaliated by scoring a clean sweep in the furlong. Goldsmith turned in another fine performance in the mile, winning it in 4:42.2. The Indian relay team, composed of Zimmerman, B. Swift, C. Moore and Leslie, covered the distance in 1:34.8, just 1.8 seconds over the city record.

Hockey

N

ORTH Central's hockey team finished second in series play in the first season of high school hockey in Spokane, losing only one game and that to the pennant-winning Lewis and Clark Tigers.

Coach J. Wesley Taylor's squad, though handicapped by lack of size, played clean games throughout the entire season and won the respect of their adversaries by their fine sportsmanship and by their fight.

After losing their first game to Lewis and Clark by the score of 1-0, the Indian puck chasers steadily improved in team play and did not lose another game although they fought to scoreless ties with Gonzaga and L. C. in the second half of the double round robin tourney.

Twelve boys received letters in this sport: Bob Johnson, Jim Neidigh, Wesley Towner, Ed Keegan, Jack Robideaux (captain), Jay Robideaux, Andy McLeod, Ronald Moss, Duane Wilson, Warren Brooks, Tony Ressa and Art Pachernegg.

Begin Season With Loss

Meeting the L. C. Tigers in the first game of the season, the Braves dropped the contest by the narrow margin of 1 to 0. Play was very ragged with both teams showing dire need for improvement which came later in the season.

This was proved more conclusively when the teams met the second time.

Even with a five minute overtime period in this second match, neither team was able to score and the final whistle ended the game with the score still 0 to 0.

Win Both Games From Rogers

Playing the Rogers hockey team twice in the course of the season, the N. C. pucksters won both games by convincing margins. In the first game which the Braves won 3-1, the victors took the lead and held it throughout the entire game. Both teams showed considerable improvement since the first games the previous week.

In the teams' second meeting the game went into the third period without either team able to score. Two goals by Moss and two by Jay Robideaux in the last period enabled the Red and Black team to win over the Pirates to the tune of 4 to 0.

Win One and Tie One With Gonzaga

Meeting the husky Gonzaga stick wielders, the Warriors won their first game from the Bullpups by the score of 2-1 in a thrilling overtime contest and fought to a scoreless tie in the second tilt. In the first game with the score tied 1 to 1 at the end of the final period, a five-minute overtime was called. Midway in this stanza, Jack Robideaux broke away and scored, unassisted, to give N. C. a 2 to 1 victory over the Zags. In the last game of the season the teams fought to a scoreless tie.

Boy's Golf

WITH a full team of lettermen returning, Walter C. Hawes, golf coach, issued the call to practice. Prospects seemed bright for the Indians, who were last year's city champions. Members of the golf team are: Jack Nicholson, Warren Tschirgi, Wayne Guthrie, Don Woods, Bob Davis, Roger Hempleman and Lowell Bell, the only new letterman. Candidates for the team played a tournament before interscholastic play was started.

Opening the golfing season and the defense of their city championship at Downriver on April 23, the North Central golfers downed the Gonzaga devotees 10 to 5. The Braves won four matches and dropped two to the Bullpups. Tschirgi, Woods, Davis and Hempleman won points and Guthrie and Nicholson dropped points.

Continuing the defense of their city crown the following Saturday at Indian Canyon, the North Centralites swamped Rogers 15 to 2. Nicholson, Guthrie, Woods and Hempleman garnered 3 points each while Tschirgi won two and lost one. Davis split one with his opponent.

In the last match of the first half of the double round robin tournament, the Indians downed the strong Lewis and Clark golf squad 12 to 6 at Indian Canyon. Nicholson and Davis each won three points while Hempleman, Woods and Tschirgi each won two. Guthrie lost his match to Rucker of L. C. 3 and 0.

FIVE returning lettermen, Harold Downie, Lloyd Scott, Wes Scott, Alex Fillerup and Jim Munroe and a promising group of newcomers greeted Coach E. L. Hix's opening tennis call. A singles tournament was conducted and from the tourney's outstanding players, this year's squad was selected.

For the fourth consecutive year the Indians won the city championship. The Warriors defeated Gonzaga 6-1, Lewis and Clark 7-0 and Rogers 7-0.

The season was the most successful in North Central history. In addition to winning the city championship, the Indians scored victories over such top-notch out-of-town aggregations as West Valley, Cocur d' Alene, Bonners Ferry and the Washington State college freshmen.

Later in the season the North Central squad will play Wenatchee and several of the outstanding high school teams in Seattle.

"Mac"

MAC is one of the family of six English Pit bulldogs, all of whom are immensely proud of their famous brother. He remembers very little of his infancy, so he tells me. Even as a puppy, however, Mae gave unmistakable signs of his studious nature—he preferred to chew on newspapers and books instead of old shoes. Often Mac would lie in the shade and thoughtfully devour a book or two with possibly a magazine thrown in by way of variety while he pondered over his future career.

One of his brothers is employed as companion to a miner, another makes his home with a business man and still a third with a priest; thus the house of McDongal is well represented in the world of industry, the business world and in the clergy. It was not until one evening as he polished off the remains of a leather-bound copy of the "Schoolhouse in the Hills" that Mae had the great idea—he would go to North Central, become a scholar and represent his family in the academic field!

Since that very day, Mae invariably arises at an early hour, takes a brisk run around the block for health's sake, returns home to eat a hearty breakfast and then, promptly at 8:15, he scratches at the door to be let out of the house in order that he will have time to run to school and to greet his many friends as they file past him.

All school affairs have interest for Mac. As a spectator, he is interested wherever North Central athletes compete. Football games hold a special attraction for him, and every game finds him rooting on the sidelines for old Red and Black. He barks loudly after every touchdown and leads himself in a cheer whenever a brilliant play is made. His love of football games, however, caused him a great deal of embarrassment during the last Gonzaga-Oregon State game. At the half, a group of Gonzaga students captured Mae, dressed him in Gonzaga colors and forced him to parade in front of the bleachers along with the Oregon State duck mascot.

Big and good natured, Mac is tolerant of all things except Airedales and cats. Airedales he fights on general principles; and as for cats, he will have none of them. "Cats are villainous creatures," he earnestly warned me. "You've got to watch them carefully. Why, I've known them to carry off bones that I'd saved for over two years—yes, two years," he continued in a tone of righteous indignation. "It is my opinion that cats are responsible for much of this world's trouble. You may quote me as saying that I am definitely anti-cat!"

Aside from Airedales and cats, Mac likes everything in North Central and the vicinity. He enjoys lunch periods especially and always puts in his bid for last bites of ice cream bars of which he is passionately fond. All in all, Mac is a typical North Central student—he likes to study, he likes to eat, he has that fighting spirit—and most of all, he likes North Central.

Prominent Senior A Girls

EVERY year brings out its prominent senior A girls in the physical education department who win as their reward an all-activity shield. A total of 500 points is required and 500 additional points for each bar on the shield.

There are many ways of earning activity points, such as working in the gym office in vacant periods, presenting health charts for each month and turning out for all activities in the athletic line.

Carol Patz, one of the most active girls in the department, has received a shield and three bars, the maximum number awarded. Phyllis Eaton earned a shield by her dancing in the operettas, the "Doll Shop," and May day programs.

Others who received shields for various activities were Elizabeth Squibb, Shirley Hawley and Jane Radkey.

Many were active in sports, such as volleyball, baseball, tennis, skating, soccer and track. These include: Francell Burns, Evelyn Partridge, Charlotte Claypool and Frances Gau.

May Pageant

For the third in the series of May pageants on the playfield, the "Good Ship North Central" was presented to the students Thursday, May 26, in a colorful program.

Pat Boyle, previously elected by the student body, ruled as princess. Her court, the "Red Feathers," included Nita Anderson, Phyllis Eaton, Lillian Frank, Cleo Gale, Jane Herrington, Cleo Krebs, Jerry Moody, Jane Norden, Evelyn Partridge, Carol Patz, Marjorie Peterson, Ruth Pyle, Jane Radkey and Virginia Watkins.

In a "good will" ship carried by sailors, Princess Pat visited various countries, represented by dances. These included Hawaii, China, Greece, Spain, France, Ireland and a return to America. Music was furnished by the concert band.

Senior A's participating in the dances, in addition to the princess' court, were: Viola Schaffert, Betty Cruse, Nellie Knight, Gerry Thompson, Vivian Mondou and Charlotte Pushor.

The pageant, outstanding performance of the year, was presented by the girls' physical education department, under the direction of Miss Elsa Pinkham. It was noteworthy because of the colorful costumes, picturesque dances, originality and direction.

Others responsible for its success were Miss Ethel Ashley of the art department, J. D. Youngman of the stage crew and Miss Agnes Avent who was in charge of costume making.

Red Feathers

FOR the first time in the history of North Central, a group of girls has been formed to represent the school at athletic events and other school affairs. These girls must be seniors who have been outstanding scholastically in addition to being active in the physical education department.

From many names suggested for the new group in a contest, the name "Red Feathers," submitted by Jerry Moody, was chosen by F. G. Kennedy and a committee.

This spring the "Red Feathers," consisting of fifteen girls chosen by the student body in an election, took part in the annual May pageant. Pat Boyle, who received the greatest number of votes in the election, was princess. She has been active in the "Doll Shop," boys' dancing classes, operettas and the class play, besides being an honor student.

Costumes of white duck with red trimmings were made under the direction of Miss Agnes Avent for the princess and her court. They are designed to be symbolic of Indians in addition to being attractive and serviceable.

ONE hundred-two girls turned out for this season's volleyball, under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Hyslop Small, substitute for Miss Catherine Dittebrandt.

The junior team narrowly defeated the sophomore A team to come out winner with six wins and no loses. Captain of the junior team was Ruth Wyatt; sophomore team, Marjorie Smith.

There were eight teams: Two freshmen, one sophomore B, two sophomore A, two junior and one senior.

The manager was Ruth Van Liew and chairman was Mary Lou McPherson. Both are sophomore A's.

Boys' Dancing

Boys' dancing classes have long been a successful activity at North Central. This semester about a hundred boys were taught, with the aid of the girls, the fox trot, waltz, drag, two-step and variations of the fundamental steps.

Three classes were conducted this semester on Friday after school in the big gym. Ruth Pyle acted as student chairman with Miss Anita White at the piano and Miss Elsa Pinkham as instructor.

Prominent senior A girls who helped were: Imogene Anfinson, Evelyn Partridge, Ruth Pyle and Norine Stangland.

Skating

With the introduction of skating as an activity in 1938, the school gained a popular winter and spring sport.

This past winter one hundred seventy-one students signed up for the skating on Wednesday afternoons at the Ice Arena. Each week Miss Elsa Pinkham, instructor, arranged something of interest for the skaters. Gloria Sherwood, figure skating chairman, performed several times.

Glo Larson was chairman of this activity and Alta Milne, Mae Milne and Betty Stevens, assistants.

Badminton

More than 100 girls turned out this semester for badminton, a comparatively new sport at North Central. Althea Carlson, senior A, and Gloria Sherwood, senior B, won the doubles tournament.

The sixteen quarter finalists in the doubles contest were drawn to play in the singles tourney. In the final match Gloria Sherwood defeated Frances Gau to win the tournament.

Mrs. Eleanor Hyslop Small, substitute for Miss Catherine Dittebrandt, directed the tourney. Most of the girls had never played before but enjoyed the games very much.

Frances Gau acted as manager and official score keeper.

Outing Club

Approximately 70 girls under the direction of Miss Catherine Dittebrandt, learned the fundamentals of outdoor life by participating in Outing club activities.

There was a swimming and skating trip and several outings, among which was a hike to Indian Canyon.

The girls learned Indian trail signs, campercraft and various other things pertaining to outdoor life. The hikes were on Saturday morning. Doris Kline acted as chairman and manager with Ruth Van Liew as secretary.

Mrs. Eleanor Hyslop Small, substitute for Miss Dittebrandt this semester, accompanied the girls on several of the hikes.

Recreation Hour

Recreation hour has proved very successful this year with an average of 250 enthusiasts attending every Monday.

Ernest L. Hix and Miss Conah Mae Ellis were the faculty members in charge, assisted by P. H. Nygaard. Student assistants were: Homer Calkins, Asa Maylott, chairman and assistant respectively, of the boys; Betty Morgenthaler, chairman of the girls and Marion Anderson, assistant.

The school table tennis and chess championships were won by Bill Noble. A ping pong team, coached by Mr. Hix played Havermale and Wenatchee.

A special all-girl play hour was held in which 100 girls from the three city high schools attended. Games of ping pong, lotto, chess and anagrams were enjoyed.

A Pencil You Can Sharpen With Your Thumb

Wouldn't the Graduate
Like One as a Gift?
Most Assuredly!

Eversharp's new Repeating Pencil is the handiest—and handsomest pencil we have ever seen!

Click! Click! Click!

Just press the top—and, click! a new point appears! When one stick of lead is used, just press the top—and, click! a new lead appears! And you need reload it only once or twice a year.

Every one who writes can use this pencil, and if you do much writing—then you have discovered the handiest and handsomest repeating pencil to date.

A man who had been waiting patiently in the post office could not attract the attention of either of the girls behind the counter.

"This evening wrap," explained one girl to her companion, "was a redingote design in gorgeous lame brocade with fox fur and wide pagoda sleeves."

At this point the long suffering customer broke in with, "I wonder if you could possibly provide me with a deep pink with a touch of black stamp with a dinky perforated hem. The whole ensemble treated on the reverse side with a delicate tan mullage. Something at about two cents."

He—"Am I a little pale?"

She—"No, you're a big tub."—

Oscar was very careless about his personal effects. When his mother saw clothing scattered about the room, she said, "Now, now, who didn't put his clothes away when he went to bed?"

A muffled voice came from under the covers, "Adam."

Pat determined to pass his favorite tavern on his way home. As he approached it, he became somewhat shaky; but after gathering his courage, he passed it. Fifty yards past, he turned, saying to himself, "Well done, Pat me bye. Come back and I'll treat ye."

Said the janitor in the museum to the inquiring visitor, "Naw, that ain't Venus de Milo, that's plaster of paris."

Have you heard about the midget that died? His wife had him embalmed and laid out upstairs. About a day later a friend called to view the last remains. He was directed upstairs. Upon descending he remarked to the bereaved one how well her husband looked.

"Did you shut the door?" she asked.

"Why no," replied the man.

"Oh, my gosh," said the wife, "the cat had him downstairs twice already today."—University of Washington Columns.

Geri Wormell—"The police caught that man over there stealing a $10,000 sable coat. What do you think they'll do to him?"

Shirley Jackman—"Hmm, hard to say. That's a hard wrap to beat."

A parrot was sitting in the salon of a luxurious steamer watching a magician do tricks. The magician served notice that he was now going to do a trick never before accomplished. He pulled up his sleeves and made several fancy motions. Just at that moment the ship's boilers blew up, demolishing the ship. About five minutes later, as the parrot came to, floating about the ocean on a piece of drift wood, he muttered, "Pretty dern clever, pretty dern clever."

Mother—"Where have you been and what have you been doing all afternoon?"

Son—"Out shooting craps, mother."

Mother—"That must stop. Those little things have as much right to live as you have."

A Mississippi river steamboat was stopping in the mouth of a tributary stream, owing to a dense fog. An inquisitive passenger inquired of the captain the cause of the delay.

"Can't see up the river," was the laconic reply.

"But I can see the stars overhead," the passenger replied sharply.

"Yes," came back the captain, "but unless the boilers bust, we ain't going that way."—West Point Pointer.

"Ah wins."

"What yuh got?"

"Three accs."
